Ideal for vehicle crews, Special Forces and SWAT teams

The Military Advanced Combat Helmet MACH 2 has been developed to aid overall movement, the MACH 2 Helmet is ideal for vehicle crews, Special Forces and SWAT teams.

MACH 2, Ultra Lightweight Ballistic Helmet

The Military Advanced Combat Helmet MACH 2 only weighs 1100g in size large, this is a great reduction in overall weight compared to other ballistic combat military helmets at NIJ IIIA protection.

The MACH Range of Ballistic Helmets

This new range of helmets is based on the original PASGT design being reduced in size to produce the MACH I, II & III styles of helmet. The three different styles produce three distinctly Ballistic Helmets which can be selected according to the end users specific needs and operational requirements.

Improved harness system with six points of adjustment

The new improved harness system secured with only four bolts to ensure maximum ballistic integrity. The MACH 2 Ballistic Helmet head harness is fully adjustable and includes leather covered front padding, nylon covered rear padding and a net mesh crown pad retainer.

Our harness retention system allows for six points of adjustment on the harness and two inside the edges of the combat helmet to adjust further for a more comfortable head fit.
